I'm Mrs. Sage

Wyoming teacher, Buffalo local, and parent of two. Our kids deserve tests that actually work, but I can't do it alone —join me at the table this summer!

I'm stepping out of my classroom this summer to join a team of teachers from across the state, and I want you there with me. We need your unique perspective to review our state's testing materials for accuracy and fairness. This is our chance to work side-by-side, share our insights, and make sure these tests truly reflect the brilliance of our Wyoming students. Let's team up, connect with friends, and get paid for our expertise—we'll even cover your travel! I'd love to have you sitting next to me at the table.
